SMALL DOSES

It looks like we are to have peace before we have prohibition.

A Nashville judge has held the Tennessee woman suffrage act unconstitutional.

The Huns are resentful and swear they will not sign—but watch 'em sign.

The weather man promises fair and warm weather for the second half of the week.

Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, thinks he is a Republican candidate for President.

At last Germany has been given an ultimatum. She comes to the forks of the road before this week is out.

Democrats are preparing to give some fatal knocks to the Knox League-busting resolution.

Unless Germany signs, the armistice will end next Monday and Foch will take steps to make her sign.

A class of 450 Elks were initiated at Lynchburg, Va., June 14, one of the largest classes on record.

The Clarksville High School has been promised equipment for a military unit with a guaranty of 100 boys over 18 years of age.

Texas adopted prohibition but beat every other constitutional amendment, include female suffrage and an increase of the governor's salary.

A government plane will carry a bale of cotton from Americus, Ga., to Lowell, Mass., where it will be woven into cloth and cut into souvenirs.

The Hopkinsville Kentuckian comes back, looking just as bright and handsome as the soldiers who had to suspend operations during the war.—Dover Courier.

Lieut. Arthur W. Brown, the American navigator of Alcock's machine, found an English bride, Miss Kennedy, waiting for him in London.

June brides are now quite the fad. In Louisville Monday 42 marriage licenses were issued. This did not count 16 Kentucky couples who were married in Jeffersonville.

By unanimous vote of the Senate Agricultural Committee the False Time law, known as the daylight-saving law, is to be repealed, effective in October, 1919.

A bootlegger on trial at Smithfield, N. C., admitted on the stand that he had traded wives with another man and gave a half pint of whiskey and 25 cents to boot.

Chas. W. Pipkin, aged 19, who received an M. A. degree at Vanderbilt University June 11, the youngest man ever graduating with that degree from Vanderbilt. He was recommended for a Rhodes Scholarship.

Flag Day, June 14, was made notable by the birth of Malcolm D. Frankel, Jr., in the forenoon and of John T. Edmunds, Jr., in the evening, the latter at Columbia, Tenn., where Mrs. Edwards was visiting her mother. Both fathers are doing as well as could be expected.

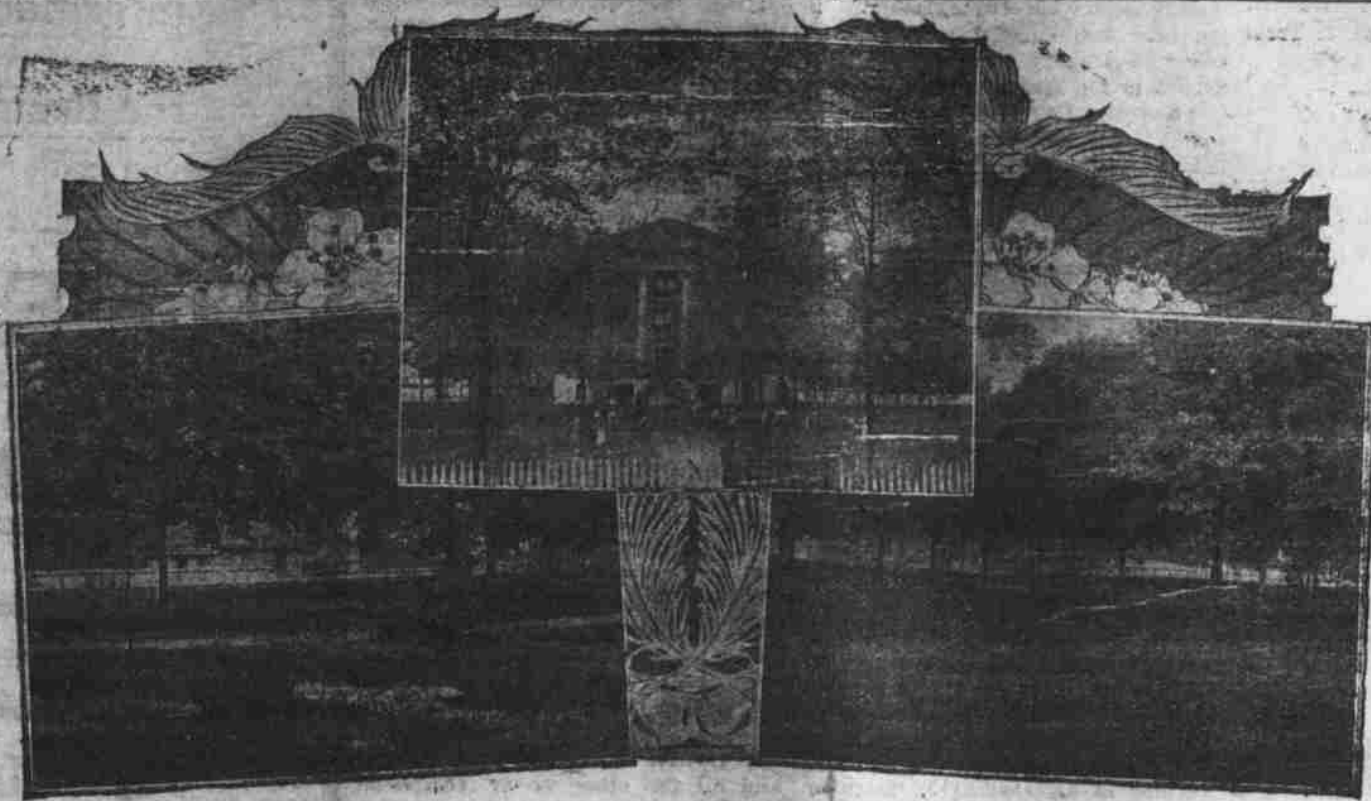

The new eight-hour work day for L. & N. employees has wiped out all vacation-on-pay privileges under the private ownership rules. Director Hines rules that the men get pay only when they work and pay for overtime. There will be fewer vacations this year than usual.

J. E. Dew, a Covington man, has 78 pieces of "found money," ranging from one cent to a dollar, that were found within five years by keeping his eyes on the ground. But think of the blue sky overhead he has failed to see all these many years. Some day he will get what is Dew him.

TWO VISITORS HERE ON BETHEL COLLEGE BUSINESS

ROBERT HUSKY GETS 2½ YEARS
Rev. O. M. Huey, of Campbellsville, Ky., who is recommended as a campaigner for Bethel Woman's College, and Prof. John L. Hill, financial agent of the Baptist Education Society, in the big educational campaign about to begin, were in town last night and met with the trustees of the College.

$30,000 TO BE SPENT ON BETHEL WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Contract For $25,000 Dormitory and $5,000 Improvements On Main Building.

READY FOR OPENING SEPT. 10
New Dormitory to Contain 24 Bedrooms and Basement to be Equipped Later For a Gym--Located Just West of Present Building.

At a meeting of the trustees of Bethel Woman's College held Monday night, plans prepared by Architect John T. Waller for a new dormitory were adopted and the contract for its erection by September 10 was let to the Forbes Manufacturing Co. The new building with the gymnasium unfinished when school opens will cost $25,000. When finally completed and equipped it will cost from $30,000 to $35,000.

Its erection will be under the supervision of a Dormitory Committee composed of trustees M. H. Tandy, B. D. Hill and Bailey Waller.

The new building will be situated ten feet west of the old building connected by a covered vestibule with a passage from the dining room into the new building. The fire escape as now located will not be disturbed, the gravel roof of the vestibule serving as an additional landing for the fire escape. The building will be 112 feet long and 36 feet wide, inside. It will have a basement with windows above ground and ceiling high enough for a gymnasium the full size of the building except room for the stairway in the east end, about 15 feet. The first and second floors will be alike, each containing 12 bed rooms, six on either side with a five-foot hallway between them. Each room will have a stationary wash stand and commodious closet. There will be bath rooms on every floor with ample accommodations for all of the girls on the floor. The walls will be of Dalton red brick with stone trimmings, the general style of architecture to match the old building.

The building will be heated by hot water from a central heating plant enlarged to meet the requirements.

Work will begin before the end of this week, the soil excavated to be used in filling the low place on the east side of the campus near the street.

The stately old building shown in the illustration, erected in 1853, is one of the finest examples in Grecian architecture in Kentucky. Its walls are two feet thick and without a crack in them after all these years. Many improvements will be made under the supervision of a Building and Grounds Committee consisting of Trustees T. W. Blakey, G. H. Stowe and C. W. Garrett. An appropriation of $5,000 was made for this purpose.

The money for the work outlined will be raised by bonding the property appraised at $55,000 and from donations from the Baptists of Kentucky.

The Baptist Education Society has already set aside $100,000 for funds to be raised by a general campaign to raise $1,400,000 in five years and will ask the General Association to double the amount when it meets in November. The Society has authorized the trustees to inaugurate its campaign at once to raise the first $100,000. The trustees will employ a field man for this work and to canvass for students by the first of July.

The course of study is to be standardized as a junior college doing two years of high school work and two years of college work leading to the Associate of Arts degree. Miss Malie E. Lindsay, recently of Hardin College, Mexico, Mo., and formerly with Bethel, and Mrs. B. F. Eager, who has been dean for the last ten years, will be co-principals. Other members of the faculty will soon be announced.

The school will be under the control of the Board of Trustees, with a financial agent.

HOW J. C. GARY DIED IN FRANCE

Was Slain in Battle in the Desperate Charge in Argonne Forest.

Mr. John C. Gary, Sr., R. F. D. 7, Hopkinsville, Ky.

My Dear Mr. Gary:

I am just in receipt of a letter from the Adjutant General of the Army giving full details as to the death of your son, a copy of which I enclose.

I am glad to be of this service to you, and I want to express to you my sincere sympathy in your great loss. However, it should be of some consolation to you to know that he gave his life in the greatest cause for which man can strive.

It shall always be a pleasure for me to serve you at any time I can.

Yours very truly,
D. H. KINCHLOE

MORRIS ADMR. GETS $7,500

SECOND TRIAL OF $25,000 DAMAGE SUIT WON BY THE PLAINTIFF.

ROBERT HUSKY GETS 2½ YEARS

Colored Will Case Was On Trial Yesterday In Circuit Court.

The second trial of the big damage suit of Ennis Morris, Administrator, against the Kentucky Public Service Co. was begun Tuesday and continued until Monday when it went to the jury. The first trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $10,000, but this was set aside and a new hearing granted.

The damage complaint is based on the death of Joe Morris, brother of the plaintiff, which occurred several months ago while Morris was working on an electric light pole on Sixth street, being an employee of the company. He was killed by a heavy charge of electricity.

The jury at nightfall brought in a verdict of $7,500 for the plaintiff. Robert Husky was given a two and a half year penitentiary sentence in short order Monday when he entered a plea of guilty to uttering and publishing a forged check.

War Department.
The Adjutant General's Office, Washington.

201 (Gary, John C., Jr.) Enl. 1dv-63 May 26, 1919.

Honorable D. H. Kinchloe, House of Representatives

Dear Sir:

With further reference to your communication of Jan. 27, 1919 requesting information concerning the death of John C. Gary, Jr., late of Co. D. 315th Machine Gun Battalion, you are informed that a report has been received from overseas, which shows:

Private John C. Gary, No. 3094886 was killed in action on November 1, 1918, and buried in the commune of St. Juvin, Ardennes. Map 35 N. W. co-ordinates E297.1 286.7. For further information you are advised that the 80th Division, of which the 315th Machine Gun Battalion was a unit, was about 70 miles northwest of Verdun in the Department of Ardennes on November 1st.

They were engaged in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. You are advised that the following officers are with the 315th M. G. Battalion A. P. O. 756:

Capt. Edward T. Devant; First Lieut. Jerome O. Brown; 2nd Lieut. Donald M. Smith.

It is desired to express to the relatives of Private John C. Gary, through you, the deep sympathy of the Department on account of the great loss they have sustained, and to commend them to the contribution they have made to the cause for which this soldier gave his life.

Very respectfully yours,
P. C. HARRIS,
Adjutant General.

PUNCH AND ORATORY

Rendered the H. B. M. A. Opening An Enjoyable Affair Friday Night.

The "house-warming" at the new H. B. M. A. rooms Friday night brought out a large crowd. The weather was warm but Tom Baugh brought in some electric fans and at the suggestion of Chairman George Gary coats were removed and everybody made as comfortable as possible.

Cigars were passed and punch was served, after a committee of ladies had pinned a carnation on every man's button-hole as he went in. After a good speaking program and frequent bursts of violin music by T. E. Bartley, Robt. McCarroll, S. T. Fruit, S. E. Yancey and other old fiddlers, the meeting concluded with a drawing for a "baby liberty bond." T. L. Petree, the bachelor capitalist, held No. 33, the lucky number, and his "bond" turned out to be little Virginia Reinheimer, a pretty little Miss bedecked in national colors, who was brought from a place of concealment and climbed into his arms.

Senator Frank Rives opened the speaking program by introducing Geo. E. Gary as presiding officer who spoke on "What the H. B. M. A. has accomplished" and then introduced other speakers.

R. E. Cooper discussed "The H. B. M. A. and the Farmer."

Rev. L. W. Doolan made a big hit in telling "What I Think of the H. B. M. A. Bunch."

J. T. Wall spoke on the need of increasing the membership of the H. B. M. A. and that every man should realize the importance of taking an active part in the work that is to be done.

Brief talks by John A. Clements and Chas. M. Meacham closed the program.

The following resolution was adopted by a rising vote:

"Whereas, our attention has been called to the serious situation of the farmers for the need of laborers to save the country's wheat crop, and to produce other crops.

"And whereas, we are aware of the fact that there are able-bodied men both white and colored within the confines of the city who do now and have in the past refused to engage in honest and useful occupation.

"And whereas, Chief of Police Roper, of Hopkinsville, has officially over his signature, called the attention of the public to the law against vagrancy and loafing, and warning all able-bodied men who are without occupation that they must go to work or they will be arrested and placed in the county workhouse.

Therefore, be it resolved by the H. B. M. A. members and other business men herein assembled, that we heartily endorse said action of the Mayor, City Commissioners and the Chief of Police and do hereby by this act, bind ourselves to support said city officials in this action; and hereby agree each as a committee of one, to assist the farmers in securing labor to save the wheat crop of the county and to produce other crops.

DENHARDT IS OUT OF RACE FOR GOVERNOR

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FROM BOWLING GREEN DECLARES HE HAS NO CHANCE.

ENTERED RACE TOO LATE

Says Opponents Lead and Harmony in the Party is the Need

At This Time.

Col. H. H. Denhardt, Bowling Green, is out of the race for the democratic nomination for governor. In a statement to that effect he said that conditions had shown him that his opponents for the nomination, who have been in the field much longer than he, have such support as to make his nomination impossible.

He said that during his candidacy he had made no combination or deal with any other candidate, directly or indirectly. He pledged himself to support the Democratic nominees in the November election. His statement follows:

"Upon my return from France, about sixty days ago, my friends urged me to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky. After a survey of the situation I announced my candidacy, and in a number of speeches presented my views on public questions. Being in the habit of plain speaking I went to the records for my facts, and turned the light on a group of politicians who have trafficked in pardons and paroles, neglected their official duties and aided and abetted raids on the public treasury.

People Want Reforms.

"I took a firm stand against these men, and declared for principles and policies that would make a better and greater Kentucky.

"The measures of retrenchment and reform advocated by me were received with approval and I believe that if I had had the time to visit every section of the State, meet the voters and acquaint them with my position of public questions my nomination and election would have been assured. However, conditions have shown to me that my opponents in the primary, who have been in the field many months longer than I, have such support as to make my nomination impossible. Consequently I have decided to withdraw from the race for Governor.

"It is proper for me to say that I have not made any combination or deal with any other candidate, either directly or indirectly.

"No man ever had truer friends. They stood by me unselfishly and gave many proofs of their faith and loyalty and I am deeply grateful to them.

"I pledge myself to the support of the Democratic nominees and I shall do everything possible to further the success of the ticket in November. The victory this fall will point the way to the election next year of a Democratic Senator and a Democratic President.

Praises President Wilson.

"Under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson the democracy deserves and will receive the approval of the people. In ability and character, and courage he stands without a peer. The nations of the world have acclaimed his statesmanship. The League of Nations, which will make future wars practically impossible, is the greatest charter of peace, and justice and liberty ever drawn by the hand of man. It is the product of his heart and brain. The attacks upon him and his work are the result of partisanship. They discredit the Republican party and its leaders. Kentucky should be, and will be, among the first States to endorse the wise
